

No words can completely describe the horse

Oh, for just the right words to best describe our horse.

These didn't originate with us, but we wish they had, because we wholeheartedly agree with every one of them, although each is still so incomplete.

"And God took a handful of southerly wind, blew his breath upon it, and created the horse."

"When God created the horse, he said to the magnificent creature: I have made thee as no other. All the treasures of the earth shall lie between thy eyes. Thou shalt cast thy enemies between thy hooves, but thou shalt carry my friends upon thy back. Thy saddle shall be the seat of prayers to me. And thou fly without any wings, and conquer without any sword."

"Horse, thou art truly a creature without equal, for thou fliest without wings and conquerest without sword."

"The horse is God's gift to mankind."

"A pony is a childhood dream; a horse is an adulthood treasure."

"He doth nothing but talk of his horses."

"There is something about the outside of a horse that is good for the inside of a man."

"A man on a horse is spiritually as well as physically bigger than a man on foot."

A Cowboy's Faith By Frank J. Buchman

"If one induces the horse to assume that carriage which it would adopt of its own accord when displaying its beauty, then, one directs the horse to appear joyous and magnificent, proud and remarkable for having been ridden."

"There is something about riding down the street on a prancing horse that makes you feel like something, even when you ain't a thing."

"There is no secret so close as that between a rider and his horse."

"I heard a neigh, oh, such a brisk and melodious neigh it was. My very heart leaped with the sound."

"If the world was truly a rational place, men would ride sidesaddle."

"If you act like you've only got 15 minutes, it'll take all day. Act like you have all day, and it'll take 15 minutes."

"A good horse makes short miles."

"A canter is the cure for every evil."

"A horse gallops with its lungs, perseveres with its heart, and wins with its Writer Frank J. Buchman rides Zane, a fifth generation of his horse breeding production.

character."

"Speak your mind, but ride a fast horse."

"As a horse runs, think of it as a game of tag with the wind."

"In riding a horse, we borrow freedom. Oh for a horse with wings."

"In buying a horse or taking a wife, shut your eyes tight and commend yourself to God."

"The horse knows how to be a horse if we will leave him alone, but the riders don't know how to ride. What we should be doing is creating riders and that takes care of the horse immediately."

"Horses are so forgiving."

"Don't be the rider who gallops all night and never sees the horse that is beneath him."

"Trust in God, but tie your horse."

"The wagon rests in winter, the sleigh in summer, the horse never."

"It is not enough for a man to know how to ride; he must know how to fall."

"When you're young and you fall off a horse, you may break something. When you're my age and you fall off, you splatter."

"He who said he made a small fortune in the horse business probably started out with a large fortune."

"Sell the cow, buy the sheep, but never be without the horse."

"A horse. A horse. My kingdom for a horse."

"I've spent most of my life riding horses. The rest I've just wasted."

"God forbid that I should go to any heaven where there are no horses."