

Patriotic Salute Planned Saturday At Tonganoxie

A special recognition in addition to the traditional celebration of America's Independence is planned this weekend.

To get everyone in the mood for Fourth Of July 4, a red, white and blue concert is scheduled Saturday evening, July 1, at the Jewell On Main located right on the corner of Fourth and Main in Tonganoxie, Kansas.

"Join us as Diamond Jubilee Entertainment presents Rusty Rierson, Toni Rae and The Stranger Creek Band at 7 o'clock," welcomed Charley Green.

"To honor their service to everyone, all veterans will be admitted free of charge," according to Green, who has coordinated the festivities advertised and promoted on WIBW, Country Legends and The BIG 94.5 Country.

"Rusty Rierson will perform with entertaining songs and music in the melodic style of Don Williams and George Strait," Green said.

"He'll present a mix of country favorites to the high energy renditions of country rock, however, not forgetting those who have given us our freedom," Green added.

"Toni Ray, referred to as 'this girl can wail,' brings a style, elegance and energy to the stage as she performs songs from country standards to the red, white and blue of our heritage," Green insisted.

Tickets are available at "buy one, get one for half-price" at First State Bank & Trust in Tonganoxie, Basehor, Perry and Lawrence.

Talette's Cafe in Tonganoxie is offering 10 percent off supper cost for those with advance tickets in hand.

Information is available by calling Green at 913-219-3942.
